2022 COMMUNITY SERVICE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

This year the Sacramento Buddhist Church Adult Buddhist Association (ABA) will offer Community Service Scholarship Awards to deserving graduating high school students, college, university, vocational, or technical students. These Awards are funded by the ABA Scholarship Education Fund.

Graduating high school students and students attending an accredited college, university, vocational or technical school in 2021-2022 may apply for the Community Service Scholarship Award. The student must be a family member of the Sacramento Buddhist Church, ABA, Affiliated or Sponsored Organization of the Church.

The Scholarship Award is based on a competitive process that includes an application, essay, letters of Recommendation, and interview. The Awards are intended to recognize in addition to academic achievement, Community Service to others.

The evaluation criteria will include:

- Essay describing your Community Service (one to three pages) and the development, planning and execution of Community Service projects; and/or taking a leadership role in Community Service activities. A Power Point or video presentation (three to five minutes) may be submitted in lieu of the Essay.
- Scholastic achievement
- Letters of Recommendation
- Oral interview

An ABA Scholarship Committee will evaluate the qualifications of each applicant and will select Award Recipients. The Awards will be made at the end of the current school year.

Application deadline: Applications must be received by April 30, 2022 by the Sacramento Adult Buddhist Association, 2401 Riverside Blvd., Sacramento, CA, 95818.

Questions can be directed to Wayne Kurahara at 916-392-3022 or Jean Kashiwada at (916) 392-0958.
